JACOB SHOCKEY.

Mr. Jacob Shocke, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, died at his residence on South Church street last Friday afternoon, aged 86 years, 3 months and 27 days.

He had been in delicate health for some months, but the Saturday before his death, he fell from a porch, dislocating his shoulder and breaking one of his ribs. Pneumonia soon appeared and he rapidly passed away.

He was a native of Morgan county, Va. For many years he taught school and was a very successful and popular teacher. He was a man of intelligence and took great interest in the politics of the country. Of a kind and genial nature, he had many friends with whom he loved to converse. He was of a Methodist faith, and had been a member of that church for a number of years.

He was a Confederate veteran, having gallantly served in Co. C, 33d Va. Infy. Stonewall Brigade. He was wounded at the battles of 2d Manassas, Sep. 1st, 1862, and at Spotsylvania, May 12th, 1864.

His first wife was Miss Annie Cope by whom he had four sons, Messrs. Joseph John, Hubert and George, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Bookwalter and Mrs. Annie Colgan, both residing in Pennsylvania.

He afterwards married Mrs. Sarah Robey, widow of Rev. Andrew Robey, of the Baltimore Conference, M. E. Church, South.

Funeral services were conducted last Sunday at his late residence, by his pastor, Rev. R. L. Foltz, assisted by Rev. N. H. Skyles. All of his children and a number of grand children were present. His body was buried in Massanutten cemetery.

Robert Deaver.

Mr. Robert Deavers, 27 years old, who lived at Toms Brook, died Wednesday morning last week at 2 o'clock from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. He was operated on by a specialist from Washington two weeks ago and was doing well until last Saturday when he suffered a relapse. He was a son of Brisco Deavers and leaves a wife and one child, two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral was held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the U. B. Church. Rev. Dike and Rev. A. H. Smith conducted the services. Interment was made in St. Johns cemetery at Harrisville.

Jacob R. Miller.

Jacob R. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. F. Miller, of Sallis, Miss., died in Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 30th, 1910, aged 20 years, 8 months and 24 days.

He worked all day on Saturday and died on Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

My gracious God when I must die, O hear my happy soul above, With Christ my Lord eternally, To share Thy glory and Thy Love, Then comes it right and well to me, When, where, and how my death shall be.

The Octoroon a Female Lynch.

The character of Cleo the octoroon in "The Sins of the Fathers" is a counterpart of Lieutenant Governor Lynch in "The Clansman." Like him, she plots to break down social barriers and establish herself in a white home. The effect of education in imparting to the negro impossible aspirations was never better illustrated. Thomas Dixon's play, in which this remarkable characterization is presented, will be at the Assembly Theatre, Harrisonburg, on Monday, Sept. 26th.

Literature and art are wielding a large influence on commercial life. Not many years ago advertising was mostly blatant and sensational; nowadays the "copy" is written by literary men and the pictures are made by artists.

The latest, and one of the best ideas in advertising, is to make it instructive. One of the greatest advertising concerns in the country has issued a booklet showing pictures of historical scenes in New England. The drawings have been made by eminent artists, the originals being works of value. The figures in the scenes are used to show clothing styles for the fall of 1910 and are introduced in such a way as not to destroy the effectiveness of the picture.

Among the pictures shown are the Lexington battle field, the old bridge at Concord, the old Boston State House, Charlestown Navy-yard, Boston ground, Emerson's "Old Manse," and others. These pictures appear in the style Book issued by Hart Schaffner & Marx.

Persons will receive a copy whose names are on the mailing list of B. Sutherland & Son.

Committee Meeting to Consider Laymen's Missionary Movement.

A committee meeting was held in the office of Judge E. D. Newman on Friday evening, Sept. 10th, at which time plans were discussed and formulated for the active organization of the Laymen's Missionary Movement among the churches of Woodstock.

Representatives from all the denominations of town and a very earnest attention was given to the consideration of this great movement, world-wide in its operations. The following men were organized into a committee of the whole—E. D. Newman, W. H. Newman, Wm. Calvert, W. T. Williams, W. W. Logan, W. L. Newman, M. Coffman, J. L. Wisman, J. C. Paxton, Hubert Artz, Homer Myers, Vernon Miley, J. B. Rush, M. L. Bauseman, Eugene C. Geary, H. J. Benchoff, H. B. Chapman and G. Harry Haun. Rev. R. L. Foltz and A. W. Barley were present as honorary and advisory members of the committee.

Action was taken in the appointment of a sub-committee to make plans and arrangements for a definite program as the first step in the initial work of the organization. The report of this committee will be made the basis for a more general interest on the part of the laymen of all the churches in the town in this great privilege and responsibility of service, that rests on the Christian world.

Woodstock will do her share of the work which the church has undertaken in carrying the message to all parts of the world.

You Have Met These Folks in Real Life.

The best tribute to a play is the spectator's comment, "Why, I know a case that happened exactly that way!" Those who witnessed "The Sins of the Fathers" at the Assembly Theatre, Harrisonburg, on Monday, Sept. 26th, will be frequently moved to make such comments. The stamp of real life, of actual scenes and incidents in the South, is upon it. The characters are home acquaintances. The significance of the story is not that it might happen sometime, but that it has actually happened in the here and now, is continually taking place and shaping itself in the life of the South. Do not miss this striking chapter of Southern chivalry, courage and honor by Thomas Dixon, the same dramatic magic-worker who wrote "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman."

Stultz-Stewart.

Mr. Kirby O. Stultz, son of Mr. Jas. Stultz, of St. Luke, was married last Thursday at 8 o'clock, in Salem, Ind. to Miss Mary Emily Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stewart.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the bride's home, immediately after which a luncheon was served to a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Stultz arrived here last Saturday and will spend ten days at his father's before returning to Lynchburg where they will make their home.

Walked 36 Miles to Pay Insurance.

Mr. J. Sam. Dellinger is one man in Shenandoah county who appreciates fire insurance and does not propose to let his policy expire. Last Saturday Mr. Dellinger, who is 51 years of age and the father of 13 children, walked from his home at Jerome to Woodstock, a distance of 18 miles and returned home the same day, just to renew his fire insurance with M. W. Magruder's Agency.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swensen, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Buchen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Sale Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Piles 25c at Schmitt's Drug Store.

Water Melons Swept Away.

Mr. John Sweeney informs us that this was a most disastrous season for watermelons. First the flood came and destroyed his vines. He replanted and the bugs and the drouth each took a large share of the crop, and last of all a mammoth hay ride party from Ellensburg descended upon his patch and when they departed there was left only a recollection of what had been. We had the names of all in the party but unfortunately it was misplaced. "Such is fame."
